Our Code4SP pilot testing phase is ongoing!

Training phase testimonials from our participants!

The launch of our project pilot phase!

Our pilot testing phase is ongoing, and the selected participants from Cyprus, Greece and Portugal are engaging in real-life tasks working alongside professionals. The participants are involved in various programming-related tasks and are supervised by experts in the field of programming. During this phase, they will develop all the necessary skills to cope with the demand and expand their knowledge.

Participants in the training phase of the Code4SP project

Our participants underwent the Code4SP project training learning crucial information and obtaining the necessary skills to contribute to the programming sector! Their successful completion of the training allowed them to develop a final project that was presented to employers for the pilot testing phase of the project!
